

THE LOST+UNFOUND

NEWSLETTER - FEATURE UPDATE - MAY 2026

A WHOLE LOT IS NEW AT THE LOST+UNFOUND - COME SEE

What up, fam.

We've been heads-down for a minute, and the site is in a different place than the last time a lot of you visited. This isn't a "we moved a button" update - there's actual new stuff to do here now. Here's where things stand today and what's worth checking out.

SHOP YOUR EVENT PHOTOS - AND PAY HOW YOU WANT

The galleries got a real storefront. If you were shot at an event, you can browse your gallery, pick the photos you want, and check out on the spot. Every gallery is priced on its own, and you can pay with a card or with Bitcoin over the Lightning Network. Once you've paid, your photos drop into a download portal - full-resolution, yours to keep.

THE SHOP + THE MYSTERY BOX

The Shop is live and easy to check out from - card payments, no hoops. The one to look at first is the Mystery Box: you don't know exactly what's coming, but you know it's us. It's the kind of thing that's more fun than it has any right to be.

THE AFFILIATE PROGRAM & KING MIDAS

You can now sign up as an affiliate, share your link, and earn commission on what comes through it. Payouts run through Stripe, so getting paid is straightforward - connect your account and you're set. On top of that there's KING MIDAS, our leaderboard and gamification layer, so repping the brand actually means something on the board. If you've ever wanted to be part of this beyond being a customer, this is the door.

AN INTERACTIVE MAP

Photos and events now plot onto a map at the actual venue they happened at, so you can explore the city through what we've shot rather than just scrolling a feed.

That's the current state of the site. None of this is "coming soon" - it's all live right now. Head over, click into a gallery, grab a Mystery Box, or just see what's new for yourself.
